

estates and trusts, and other allied matters together with a draft of proposed new legislation in connection therewith to the one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven session of the General Assembly was adopted, the said Resolution being number twenty-five, as published in the Public Laws of North Carolina, session of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five; and

Appointment of commission on revision of laws relating to estates.

Whereas, under the said Resolution the Commission on Revision of the Laws of North Carolina Relating to Estates was duly appointed by the Governor of this State and entered upon the discharge of the duties imposed upon it by the Joint Resolution described above and has continued diligently in the discharge of those duties; and Report of committee, with proposed legislation.

Whereas, the said commission has duly filed its report with the Governor of this State and has caused copies of the said report to be printed and placed in the hands of each member of this General Assembly; and has caused a proposed bill to be drafted embodying its recommendations, although the said proposed legislation could not be prepared for introduction in time for the careful consideration in this session of the General Assembly which its importance and far reaching effects demanded; and Work of committee not fully completed.

Whereas, this commission has found that the scope of the work to be covered by it under the Resolution of the one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five General Assembly described above is so broad and covers matters of such difficult and complicated nature that it was impossible to complete the said work within a two-year period when limited, as the said commission necessarily was limited, by small appropriation from the public funds and limited personnel; and Advisability of completing study and research necessary for full and complete report.

Whereas, it is the sense of this General Assembly that the Commission on the Revision of the Laws of North Carolina Relating to Estates, should be continued to the end that its duties may be completely discharged and an ample and adequate report accompanied by proposed legislation carrying out the recommendations of the commission be presented to the one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine session of the General Assembly: Now, therefore,

Be it resolved by the Senate, the House of Representatives concurring:

Commission continued until General Assembly of 1939.

SECTION 1. That the Commission on Revision of the Laws of North Carolina Relating to Estates shall be continued for a period extending to the date on which the regular one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine session of the General Assembly of North Carolina shall be convened, and to said commission as it is now composed there shall be added one Clerk of the Superior Court, and during the period for which the said commission is hereby extended it shall have all of the rights, duties, privileges and obligations and shall exist for the same purposes set out in Joint Appointment of additional member.
